

A CHILD MUST GROW

A child cannot choose its period of growth. Nature attends to this with laws well-nigh inalterable. A child of retarded growth or feeble vitality needs and should have help to promote healthful growth.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

The Farm Bureau

FARM BUREAU NOTES A Chance for Demonstration

Just now this office received a letter from Leo M. Geismar, County Agricultural Agent of Houghton county, Michigan, in which he calls attention to the fine results the potato growers of the county secured last year from the use of arsenate of lime in controlling the common potato bug. He reports that the results from 34 demonstrations in his county last year show that the arsenate of lime adheres to leaves as well and longer than arsenate of lead, that it kills the insects much faster than either Paris green or arsenate of lead, and that excessive amounts which might be used by mistake will cause no injury.

This office is not urging any grower to use this material, although the cost will be much less than arsenate of lead. However, there is a chance to try this out in a small way and perhaps learn something very valuable about the control of the potato beetle. We will be glad to arrange for demonstration work with this material, as compared to arsenate of lead and Paris green, with any interested potato grower.

What Variety of Late Potatoes? This question is being asked often. Some of the best late potato growers of the county consider the late Potoskey the best late variety, everything considered. Although all growers do not agree to this, after a little thinking most growers will agree that too many varieties are being grown.

The potato growers of Northern Michigan have marketed their crops of potatoes to much better advantage this year than they have ever been able to before. About 6000 of them have marketed co-operatively. They have been able to do this, as all are growing the same variety (Late Potoskey).

The first essential in co-operative marketing is a standard product which can be sold in car lots. This means one variety and one grade of potatoes where potatoes are concerned. Where the crop is marketed through local dealers, as is most of the Van Buren crop, the dealer can afford to pay more, if all the potatoes from a given community are of one variety and grade, as he can sell to better advantage than where potatoes of all sorts and shapes are dumped in a car.

The Farm Bureau office is anxious to see farmers get every cent possible out of their crops, and to do this with potatoes, it seems necessary to make standard in the county not more, at the most, than two varieties of late potatoes, and likely one will be best.

When planning a program of work for the year the matter of standardization of farm crops was decided by the Executive committee of the Farm Bureau to be a thing the Farm Bureau would stand for and push. Probably the best way to make Late Potoskey the standard late potato of the county is to interest growers all over the county in putting on demonstrations, where the late Potoskey will be planted, in the same field with the home variety under as near identical conditions as possible and then compare results. If the yield is as good or better, the grower should be willing to grow this variety to the exclusion of all others, when other advantages are considered.

This office will be glad to communicate with all potato growers desiring to put on such a demonstration.

CAPITOL NEWS

By Representative Lynn J. Lewis

The prohibition law has occupied the center of the stage in the House during the last week; it passed general orders Thursday with the amendments offered by the committee; no other amendments by the opponents were permitted; in this form it will be transmitted to the Senate where it will undergo little if any change; this Bill prohibits the possession of intoxicating liquors where such possession is unlawful under the terms of the act; adds to the definition of "intoxicating liquors" by including any liquid or combination of substances "that will produce intoxication"; also includes any substance which, if mixed with water or other ingredient will produce intoxication. Section 9 of the Wiley Act of 1917, which applies to Druggists, is left in the bill; this permits the druggist to sell patent and proprietary medicines, tinctures, toilet preparations, extracts etc., when included in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia and national Formulary, and which do not require the payment of a U. S. Liquid Dealer's Tax; provided in all cases that none of these remedies or preparations can be sold by the druggist as a beverage; this section also applies to general merchants who handle these remedies and preparations. Clergymen are permitted under license of the Food and Drug Commissioner to purchase liquor for sacramental purposes of wholesalers; heretofore they were forced to purchase from Druggists; the result has been that very few druggists have taken out a license to sell intoxicating liquors, therefore in some cases it has been quite difficult for the clergy to obtain wines for sacramental uses. Intoxicating liquor when possessed unlawfully, is declared contraband and the act expressly provides that no property rights shall exist in such liquors. Containers and receptacles when so possessed; the same are forfeited to the State, delivered to the Food and Drug Commissioner and disposed of as directed by the State Board of Auditors; they will be sold to the State institutions, hospitals and infirmaries, or re-distilled for their alcoholic contents. All violations of the act are made felonies, and for the second offense the Court has no discretion but must send to some penal institution of the State. An officer may arrest for a violation of the act, without a warrant when the offense is committed in the presence of the officer; if a warrant is sworn out for an individual in one part of the State, any officer of the state may make arrest without possession of that warrant. Persons from whom liquors, containers, implements and furniture have been seized have "their day in court", and may upon petition secure the return of the property provided they can show to the satisfaction of the court that such property is unlawfully detained by the officer. The private dwelling is immune from search, even upon a warrant, provided such place is used exclusively as a private dwelling, and not in connection with a hotel, store or lodging house, nor operated as a place of public resort. No writ of replevin against an officer can be issued to recover possession of liquors, implements, furniture or receptacles seized by him under this act. Some concern has been manifested about the state by the druggists, manufacturing chemists, and the extract manufacturers and vendors; they fearing that their business would be interfered with by this act; such is not the case; their rights and privileges are not changed nor interfered with by this act in any way; in fact they are left in exactly the same position as they were under the Wiley act of 1917 (Act 338). It will be observed that nothing appears in the new law relative to automobiles and other vehicles used in "smuggling" of liquors into the state; this proposition is contained in a separate bill now pending in the Senate, by the terms of which all manner of vehicles are placed within the terms of the "Abatement Act" of 1915; this is the act that classes houses of ill-fame and public resorts for immoral purposes, as nuisances, and permits by proceedings in the Chancery Court, the abatement or seizure of the offensive property; by the amendment coming through from the Senate, automobiles used in the business of violating our prohibition laws, as well as all other vehicles, will be seized, locked up, declared nuisances, and then disposed of as the Court sees fit under the act. So much misconception of the terms of this new legislation has went out into the state, that I thought it best to give the facts in this letter.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Reo Abrams, S. Kalamazoo St. Paw Paw, says: "I had backache so severe that I could hardly run the sewing machine or do any lifting or stooping. If I did, my back would give out. I was troubled a lot with backache and my kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Longwell Bros. Drug Store, and they soon rid me of the backaches, strengthened my back and benefited me in every way." Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Abrams had. Foster-Milburn Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The following lines were written by Sergeant Roger S. Clark, soldier with the American army in Russia, and sent to Mr. and Mrs. James Raymond by their son, Earl, who is also a soldier in that far away land. The lines are entitled, "The Creation of Russia", and the sentiment expressed is undoubtedly endorsed by all American boys on Russian soil. In other words, "there is more truth than poetry" in the verses of Sergeant Clark.

When the Lord was designing Creation And laying out Oceans and Lands With never an hour's relaxation Nor a moment to spit on His hands

As anyone will in a hurry He let things get by now and then In all the excitement and worry That He should have done over again.

So rather than mess up the outfit He saved every blunder and blob And laid it aside in a corner To use at the end of the Job.

And the sixth afternoon of the Contract

His bonus expiring that day He bailed out the dregs of Creation And shovelled the litter away.

And scrapped all the wreckage and tailings And the sewage and scum of the sump And He made on the Shores of the Arctic A great International Dump.

He rushed the thing through in a hurry And because of the rush He was in He named the locality Russia And Russia it always has been.

And then feeling glum and sarcastic Because it was Saturday night He spotted the nastiest corner And called it Archangel for spite.

It is there they do everything backward And the mud doesn't dry between rains Where money and sawdust are plenty And thievery's better than brains

Its the home of the Wop and Bohunk The herring and mud-colored crew My strongest impression of Russia Gets into my head through my nose.

Its the land of Infernal Odor The land of the National Smell The average American soldier Would sooner be quartered in Hell.

Its back to the States for Yours Truly I'm not wishing anyone ill But Russia can hang for all I care And truly I reckon she will.

Yes, its back to the States for Yours Truly A sadder but wiser young chap The Lord played a joke on Creation When Russia was dumped on the map.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING?

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease. Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain. This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1896 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

LOOK OUT! The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three aise.
